Okay, who is getting excited??? (I think the teacher is 😊) Just 5 more days until Winter Break! And boy, will it be a busy week. So, I am going to keep today's newsletter short and sweet so that you read all of the important information. Thanks and have a super weekend!

Bakery Field Trip

Thank you to those of you who have returned permission slips for the bakery field trip. I would appreciate getting them all back before the break so I can have the trip organized and planned. However, we currently do not have enough drivers for the trip...we can take 5 kids. 😞 If we do not have enough drivers we will have to cancel the trip. So, if you can spare some time on that day we would really appreciate it.

Book Exchange

Don't forget! We are having a book exchange next week. Your child should bring in a new or a very gently used book to be traded with another child. Please wrap the book like a present, but do not write a name on it. DO put a sticky note with your child's name on it so that I can easily check off who I have books for. Our exchange is on Friday, so please send in your books soon. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Friendship Sharing

Please be sure to send in your child's item for Friendship Sharing on Monday (if you haven't already). The week will go quickly, so I want to be sure everyone is covered. We will also be putting the items in our special pockets earlier in the week to help us be organized. Remember, small items. 😊

Pajama Day

We are looking forward to our special pajama day next Friday. This is a school wide spirit day, but remember it is also optional. The weather is pretty cold, so please choose jammies that are warm. Also, children often want to wear slippers with their pajamas, but it would be best for them to wear regular shoes for safety.

Reminder about Friday

Just a reminder...next Friday is a minimum day. Children will come to school from 8:00-10:30. We have a jammed packed few hours ahead of us. 😊

Thank you for all you do for your child and our classroom! Have a super weekend!
Just 5 more days until break. 😊
